A bit along the Way of St. James (Camino de Santiago Trail)

Distance: 105 km

This is one of the longest Pilgrimage Trails in Germany connecting Vacha, Fulda, Würzburg, Rothenburg, Ulm, and the Lake of Thurgau. The trail crosses into the Franconian Wine Country at the town of Ramsthal. The section from here is of tranquil, rural nature and reaches Veitshöchheim and the busy Main River Valley. Now the scenery changes frequently. First you hike past the vineyards of the Main River Valley, then through the agricultural lands of the Gäu Plateau, through picturesque wine towns, impressive farmsteads and solitary farms. The Way of St. James leaves the Franconian Wine Country at the town of Aub.

Via Romea Hiking Trail

The opportunity to walk on this old Pilgrimage trail has only been offered a few years ago. Via Romea proceeds quite vertically from the North to the South, via Austria and the Brenner Pass to Rome. In Germany, the trail leads through four states of Germany: Lower Saxony, Hesse, Thuringia and Bavaria where it touches Würzburg. In an appealing day-leg from here, you reach the historic city of Ochsenfurt and the picturesque wine village Sommerhausen. The hikers walk thereby on the foot steps of Abbot Albert von Stade who was here from 1236 to 1256 and left a detailed description of his way.
