The Unique Würzburg Flair

Why is Würzburg so popular? Many people come visit time and time again, not because of the location alongside the Main River and the ease of getting here. No, it has everything to do with the unique atmosphere that simply makes you feel good. It's a special mix of culture and ambiance, of world heritage and wine festivals, of modern and classical music, of avant-garde and age-old traditions, of sciences and party atmosphere that makes this town so popular. The stunning historical architecture provides the perfect setting for everything Würzburg has to offer. There are many hotels and restaurants that are looking forward to your visit. – Enjoy the Franconian wine, a glass of Franconian sparkling wine, and other culinary treats from the region.

The Residenz Palace – A UNESCO World Cultural Heritage Site

Balthasar Neumann, Europe's greatest architect of the Baroque era, built the Residence Palace. This former home of the prince-bishops of Würzburg is nicknamed "the castle above all castles". The grand staircase of the Residence Palace is deemed the most beautiful staircase in the world. Other renowned artists whose names are inextricably linked to this lovely city on the Main river are Tilman Riemenschneider and Giovanni Battista Tiepolo.

Almost Like Hollywood but Real: The Towers of Würzburg

Würzburg is not a fake movie backdrop but a real, vibrant city. The view from the Fortress Marienberg across the many towers rising above the city – the cathedral, the Marienkapelle, the town hall, and the Käppele – is breathtaking and unforgettable.

The Museums: Visit, Experience, and Learn

At the Mainfränkisches Museum, you find a large collection of works by Tilman Riemenschneider. The Museum am Dom offers a unique collection of modern and contemporary art. The award-winning Museum im Kulturspeicher offers Concrete Art in a truly extraordinary setting. If you are interested in items from the antiquity, then visit the Martin-von-Wagner-Museum. There is something here for any interest!

Fascinating Tradition: Franconian Wine, the Bocksbeutel and Typical Restaurants

Our recommendation: Quaint restaurants and traditional wine taverns offering local fare. Of course, you can also opt for international cuisine at five star restaurants. And don't forget that this is one of the best wine-growing areas in Germany. So don't miss the opportunity to sample a local wine from a Bocksbeutel bottle. This should be a mandatory part of any visit...

For an up-close experience of the Franconian joie de vivre, visit one of the many local wine festivals, tour a wine cellar or participate in a wine tasting.

One in Four Residents Is a College Student

Würzburg is home to about 36,000 college students. Wilhelm Conrad Röntgen once studied here and discovered X-rays that have transformed our lives. In 1901, he was awarded the Nobel Prize in Physics for his work. There are a total of 14 Nobel Prize winners that once studied and lectured at the university and helped further its excellent reputation. The University of Applied Sciences Würzburg-Schweinfurt offers 32 different Diplomas, Bachelor's and Master's degree programs. The University of Music Würzburg has produced many well-known musicians, among them the world-famous singers Waltraud Meyer and Diana Damrau.

A Unique Setting: Mozart Meets Mozambique

Are you looking for classical music or African drum beats? We have got you covered! The Africa Festival in Würzburg is the largest African Culture Festival in Europe and Würzburg also hosts the acclaimed Mozart Festival, an outstanding classical music concert series. If you need more: There is the International Film Weekend, the Stramu Street Art Festival, the Bach Days, to name just a few.

Getting Here Is Easy:

We Are Located in the Heart of Europe

As much as locals enjoy the Franconian heritage, they also take advantage of the easy access to the rest of Europe. Würzburg sits at the crossroads of numerous new and old traffic routes. Three major interstate highways intersect here: Autobahn A3 Cologne – Würzburg – Munich, Autobahn A7 Hamburg – Würzburg – Ulm, and Autobahn A81 Stuttgart – Heilbronn – Würzburg. Furthermore, there are 350 train departures daily, 70 of which are high-speed trains, and you are only an hour's drive from the Frankfurt International Airport. If you like the water, you can take a boat trip on the Main river to Sommerhausen or a leisurely cruise to Veitshöchheim and the most beautiful Rococo garden in all of Europe. Since the Rhine-Danube canal opened, the Main river has taken off as a boat-touring destination. In 2016 around 1,100 river cruises stopped in Würzburg. And don't forget to explore the scenic Romantic Road. There is no shortage of great options here.

State Horticultural Show Würzburg 2018

Landesgartenschau Würzburg 2018

95 Hectares of Future

How do we want to live? How will we reconcile work, research, living and recreation in the future? How will nature and expansion coexist? Urbanisation with ecology? Is change the new green? With the motto "What are we going to do tomorrow?" The Würzburg State Horticultural Show, which takes place from April 12 to October 7, 2018, invites its visitors to approach precisely these questions in a curious, playful, researching and indeed amazed way.

At Eye-Level with the Fortress

Just two kilometres away from Würzburg's city centre, at eye-level with the historic Fortress Marienberg, interested visitors can not only experience rare plants and blossoming landscapes, but also get to know a location for new ideas – 95 hectares of opportunities and potential. In a high-lying area with a varied history, the new district of Hubland – featuring a large park, diverse types of housing, central facilities and a social infrastructure – is being constructed. This is a district that will strengthen the city of Würzburg as a centre of knowledge and work and will make it an even more attractive place to live.

The Starting Point for the Pioneers of Flight and a US Forces Base

In addition to numerous themed gardens, trends around nature and the art of gardening, urban gardening and mobility, as well as attractive play and adventure areas, visitors to the Landesgartenschau can also embark on a journey through time. The exhibition will lead through the multifaceted history of this area, which was once a potato field and then the Galgenberg, the starting point of flight pioneers and finally a US forces base.

In the Sign of the Butterfly

When seen in this light, Würzburg's Landesgartenschau 2018 will be much more than a classic horticultural show – it will be asking questions, showing possible forms of urban life, and inviting people to participate in the shaping of the future. In the sign of the butterfly, which symbolises change, agility and inspiration like no other creature, a habitat is being created on the Würzburg plateau, which is a think-tank, a future laboratory and impulse generator and which will quite possibly soon set an example for the region, the country and far beyond these. "Life is not enough, said the butterfly. Sunshine, freedom and a small flower are also part of it". In these words penned by the Danish poet and writer, Hans Christian Andersen, it quickly becomes clear that the Landesgartenschau's motto of "What are we going to do tomorrow?" is not a question as such, but rather an invitation and a sort of mental exercise which is open to everyone.

WÜRZBURG
2018

12. APRIL – 7. OKTOBER

Museums, Galleries

A man and a woman are smiling and posing for a photo in an art gallery. The woman is wearing a green zip-up jacket over a grey shirt and white pants. The man is wearing a blue and white striped short-sleeved shirt and dark trousers. They are standing next to a large, abstract, golden-brown sculpture that resembles a stylized human figure. In the background, there are several framed artworks on the wall, including a large painting of a man's torso and a smaller framed picture. The gallery has a white wall and a grey ceiling with a grid pattern.

With all the choices available, it might be difficult to make a decision. Maybe it's the collection of Concrete Art at the Kulturspeicher. Or maybe you prefer the contrast of "old" and "new" art in the Museum am Dom. Whatever you are interested in, you will, however, find a match.

On 1,800 sqm, the Museum am Dom presents works of art, which span over a millennium. The works are not presented and organized according to schools of thought or epochs, but instead, in an exciting contrast between old and modern art. In this way, for example, works from Tilman Riemenschneider and Johann Peter Wagner meet with works from Ernst Barlach, Käthe Kollwitz and Joseph Beuys. A special focus of the collection lies in the works from artists from eastern Germany e.g. Wolfgang Mattheuer and Werner Tübke. Special exhibitions:

Prince-Bishop Julius Echter von Mespelbrunn 1617 – 2017

As a spiritual and secular ruler, Prince-Bishop Julius Echter von Mespelbrunn significantly determined the destinies of Würzburg and Mainfranken (Main-Franconia) for more than 40 years. He is regarded as one of the most influential, but also one of the most controversial personalities in Würzburg's history. To mark the 400th anniversary of Echter's death, the Diocese of Würzburg and the University's Martin von Wagner Museum are highlighting the life and work of this Prince-Bishop in two extraordinary special exhibitions, both of which focus on Julius Echter, but with different emphases.

Martin von Wagner Museum of the University Würzburg June 25 – September 24, 2017

Julius Echter – Patron of the Arts

To this day, Echter is one of the most prominent figures in Würzburg. Streets, squares, schools, pharmacies and vineyards are named after him, and the university he founded bears his name, as does the Juliusspital.

In its extensive exhibition which features about 200 exhibits, the Martin von Wagner Museum shows how Julius Echter developed Würzburg's connection to the international Renaissance through art, architecture and science. Never before has Echter's role as patron of the arts been so comprehensively represented. With loans from home and abroad, the exhibition gives an authentic picture of the culture in the 1600s in and around Würzburg, and this in the form of paintings, prints, miniatures, drawings, coins, sculptures, building sculptures, furniture, tapestries, books, the goldsmith's art, weapons, letters and other original documents. Plastic models and interactive animation really do bring the Echter period to life.

Museum am Dom

June 23 – September 17, 2017

Julius Echter 1573 – 1617

The Controversial Prince-Bishop An Exhibition after 400 Years

The 400th anniversary of the death of Julius Echter is the occasion for the Diocese of Würzburg to critically and openly assess this era of its history, and to present it in an extensive exhibition with the help of numerous high-calibre national and international exhibits. In six sections, both Echter's biography and his ascent to become the prince-bishop, as well as the political structures of his time, his networks and characteristics, and the dual office of a secular and spiritual ruler, are illuminated. Above all, the exhibition aims to offer insights into the person, Julius Echter, who is, even today, still perceived as controversial. The frequently-mentioned darker aspects of his government, the expulsion of the Protestants, the expropriation of the Jewish community, and the burning of alleged witches, all feature in the exhibition, as do the attempts at the conscious self-representation of the prince-bishop as the ideal of a just and wise ruler.

The exhibition wants to invite visitors to perceive the person, Julius Echter, from different perspectives to finally form an independent opinion. The exhibition has been developed by the Archive and Library of the Diocese of Würzburg, in collaboration with the Art Department of the Diocese of Würzburg.

Directly by the Cathedral of St. Kilian, 1000 years of history of the cathedral will come alive in the Cathedral Treasury: beginning with the shrine, the cathedral's inventory of relics, via the cathedral liturgy to the bishops and the cathedral chapter, various aspects of the cathedral are on display and explained. The two door-puller lions dating from around 1040 and the golden Greiffenklaumonstrance from 1710 are particularly outstanding.

The walking tour visits the castle keep, the Scherenbergtor, the temple above the deep well from the Renaissance period, the dungeon of Tilman Riemenschneider, and the Fürstengarten with its magnificent views of the city. Jewish Life in Würzburg Würzburg has been home to citizens of Jewish faith for more than 900 years. In the Middle Ages, Würzburg was an important center of Jewish faith and philosophy thanks to the Talmud School and its rabbis. In the following centuries times of persecution happened periodically. In the 17th century, the prince-bishops evicted Jews from the city and surrounding areas and it was not until the 19th century that a Jewish community got reestablished in Würzburg. The Nazi dictatorship eclipsed with the deportation of Jews to concentration camps. Today, the Jewish community of Würzburg is again 1100 members strong. The guided tour provides an overview of the religion and history of Würzburg's Jews and visits important sights of town, such as the Juliusspital and the Marienkapelle.

Women in Würzburg

Some of Würzburg's female residents have become famous well past the city limits. Well known names include Emy Roeder, Gertraud Rostosky and Margret Boveri. Many others have not come to fame. Yet all of them have helped shape the city, whether they did laundry, sold goods on the markets, were persecuted as witches or revered as nuns. The guided tour visits many of the famous sights of town and uncovers many little known surprises.

Witch-Hunts in Würzburg

Witch-hunts did take place in Würzburg. The height of the persecution was reached in the early 17th century when women were burned en masse. In those days, any citizen – regardless of gender or status – was subject to libel, which could mean death. The guided tour visits historical sights such as the Cathedral of St. Kilian, the Neumünster, and the town hall to illustrate the religious and secular causes of the witch-hunts of the 17th century.

The Mainviertel – Würzburg's Oldest Part of Town

To this day, you can experience a piece of the original Würzburg in the Main- or Burkarderviertel. Historically, this is where the fishermen and craftspeople used to live. The guided tour takes you to the Deutschhauskirche (founded in the 12th century by the Order of Teutonic Knights), the former Hofspital (hospital) and the Romanic/Gothic era Burkarder-kirche. Burkard, the first bishop of Würzburg erected a Benedictine monastery at this location in the 8th century AD. Also located in the Mainviertel is the first creation by Balthasar Neumann. Last but not least, explore the remnants of a 17th century water canal and its lock. The canal allowed larger vessels to avoid the smaller lock at the Alte Mainbrücke (Old Main River Bridge).

Walks in Nature & Culture

Aside from outstanding cultural sights – such as the Fortress Marienberg, the Cathedral of St. Kilian or the Residence Palace – Würzburg also has beautiful natural attractions. Specially trained tour guides can take you hiking on well-maintained trails:

The Würzburger Stein – Wine Cultivation, Ecology, City from Above

The famous German poet Goethe had wine from the Würzburger Stein shipped to his home in Weimar. Stein wine financed hospitals and foundations. And the view of the city from this world renowned appellation is simply breathtaking. This hike will immerse you into the core of the history of Franconian wine.

Horticultural Art in Würzburg - The Court Gardens at the Residence and the Ringpark

Take a walk through witnesses of horticultural art through the course of time. The 19th century Ringpark impresses with its great variety of native and exotic plants. The UNESCO World Heritage Site Residence Palace is the backdrop for the picturesque Court Garden.

Through the Park of the State Horticultural Show 1990 to the Fortress Marienberg

The 1990 State Horticultural Show was held at the base of the Fortress Marienberg. Many of the features of the displays are still there. A tour guide will walk you through the Siebold garden, the nature garden, the gardens of the nations as well as the rose garden.

Wooden Kart Team Challenge

Construction, creativity, strategy, fun! Experience this extraordinary team action with your co-workers, colleagues, or as a private group. The teams set up their own racing team (e.g. product reference/ department), design their racing overalls, design and build their wooden kart. Each team eagerly awaits victory – however, only he or she who does not slip up in the pit lane wins the race. This event takes place in the sense of team spirit, creativity and goal-oriented actions.

1. Team spirit is needed. Individual vehicles can be built with our wooden kart kits. The components can be screwed together or put together in almost any way.

2. Creativity is needed. The racing overalls are individually designed by the teams.

3. Targeted action is needed. Points are awarded not only for the race victory, but also for the constructors' championship.

The design of the vehicles and the racing overalls are equally important factors. Experience this unique team-building programme with your group.

The Hunt for Mr. X

An active and fun way to get to know Würzburg. This exciting activity is modelled on the game, 'Scotland Yard chases Mr. X'. Help with capturing the escaped criminal but, be careful, he is very dangerous, and it is only by getting his Mr. X identity tag that the arrest is legal. He is out and about on foot. Be on your guard! First of all, you need to get information from Scotland Yard's training camp before you and your team start the chase. Some games involve team work and can only to be solved when everyone works together. The chase takes a maximum of 2.5 hours. If Mr. X is not caught during this time, he has won and is free. Mr. X feels safe, he does not hide, but he does use the side streets.

ExitGames Würzburg – The Real Adventure for Everyone

A brilliant weather-independent experience, ideal for family, friends or work colleagues, which is mainly about team spirit, intelligence, logic and dexterity. In three different escape rooms, golden treasure awaits you which is hidden in your grandma Uschi's living room! This is an exciting investigation which takes place in an agents' bureau – it also involves a deployment of your A-team where no less than national security is at stake! Can you manage these adventurous missions within 60 minutes?

There is a small Franconian delicacy to be enjoyed with this!

Würzburg with "Schorsch"

Experience a Würzburg city tour of a special kind – cheerful, amusing, entertaining, informative and, at the same time, cabaret. On request, you can also visit the Residence Palace. "Schorsch" brings Würzburg's history to life and makes for an unforgettable experience.

Franconian Wine

Wine and hiking, cellar tour and culture, indulgence and going for a walk: Franconia has some of the best things to offer. You can choose between a big, historical wine estate such as the Staatlicher Hofkeller and a small family-operated winery, between an up-and-coming new wine grower and a traditional, worldclass wine estate. Wine, in all its colors and taste variations, simply is the number one topic here. The best introduction to Franconian wine is a cellar tour or a wine tasting. Or you can explore the cultural heritage of the appellation Würzburger Stein. Maybe you and your group prefer to visit one of the many local wine festivals. But don't forget to enjoy a glass of our wine, or two. And the traditional Franconian wine bottle is the Bocksbeutel – it makes a great souvenir.

Wine Estate Bürgerspital Zum Heiligen Geist

The Bürgerspital Weingut in Würzburg is a modern, 700-year-old top winery in Franconia, dedicated to quality and tradition. The Riesling, Silvaner and Burgundy grape varieties are mainly grown on the 120 hectares of vineyards and are filled in Bocksbeutel. The most precious treasure is the unique vineyards, especially the Würzburger Stein and the Stein-Harfe. "For us, as Bürgerspital citizens, the greatest motivation is to get the best out of these prime positions and to produce distinctive wines that bear our signature."

The winery itself is part of the Bürgerspital foundation zum Hl. Geist, the original foundation purpose of which was the care of those in need, continues to this day. This social commitment is supported by a contribution which is made for every bottle of wine sold.

Cellar Tours

You can learn everything you have ever wanted to know about wine during the Bürgerspital's public guided tours. The tour through the 700-year-old winery reveals the entire process, starting from the grape to the bottling into the Bocksbeutel (traditional Franconian wine bottle): beginning at the wine press hall, through the cellar with modern stainless steel tanks to one of the most beautiful and oldest oak barrel cellars in Germany. It is a sight which delights, because it is here that the best wines mature. You need to give yourself some time out and travel back to 1540. The oldest authentic white wine in the world rests in the treasure chambers of the Bürgerspital. At the end of the tour, you will receive a small Bocksbeutel, which you can enjoy at home.

WineWorld Juliuspital

The charitable foundation, Juliuspital in Würzburg, was founded in 1576 by prince-bishop Julius Echter. The winery is part of this foundation and has always used the revenues to finance social projects. The cadre for the wine's individuality lies in 180 hectares of vineyard properties in the most famous wine region in Franconia. Maximum value is placed on respecting nature – sustainability for the vines and responsibility for future generations.

Cellar Tours and Wine Tastings

Wine is a cultural treasure and wine consumption is a joy. Experience both during a 90-minute tour of the Juliuspital wine estate. Take a trip through 440 years of (wine) history and get an inside view of one of the largest wineries in Germany. Immerse yourself in the realm of the cellar master, experience the fascinating excitement between modernly designed wine press houses and a historical wooden cask cellar in the middle of an impressive endowment site. Included is an informal wine tasting as an introduction to the Juliuspital wines; wines that are authentic, fresh, bold and unique.

Weingut A. Fesel

The Weingut Fesel is located right outside Würzburg, surrounded by nature. It cultivates twelve different grape varieties on six hectares of varying quality. So it can offer a great variety of wines, with something for everybody. Wine and cellar master Stefan Fesel is a second-generation owner, now in charge of the winery. He is committed to natural grape cultivation, ecological wine production, high quality and superb taste.

Weingut am Stein Ludwig Knoll

Wine has a passionate history for the Knoll family. The family has been cultivating wine in Franconia for five generations and, since 1980, has been situated here in the famous winegrowing area of the Würzburg Stein. Sandra and Ludwig Knoll give the highest priority to their ambition to produce top-quality wines from this prestigious area. The vineyards are cultivated bio-dynamically and the grape quality develops in harmony with nature. The basis for the quality of our wines is the vineyard, says Ludwig Knoll, and goes on to add „only that which we care for and preserve in the vineyard with intelligence and hard work can lead to great wines“. Fully ripe and healthy grapes are essential for the flavour and the fruit. A dialogue between innovation and tradition creates a modern architecture in addition to the wines themselves. The „WeinWerk am Stein“ is a place for encounters and tastings.

Weingut Reiss

This innovative family vineyard in Würzburg-Unterdürnbach is run by Christian and Martina Reiss. Modern and elegant wines from classic grape varieties are presented, with a focus on their show variety of Silvaner. In addition, the „new ways“ of wine ageing, such as the mash fermentation or ageing in amphorae, are a source of great interest and enthusiasm and these emotions are passed on to the customers through the wine. As well as wine tastings, guests will find an extensive program of events, such as cellar and vineyard tours, wine seminars, culinary tastings and individual tours of Würzburg – an allround program that will make your visit an impressive and memorable experience. Individual visitors are warmly invited to enjoy tastings in the new vinotheque.

Excursions

A panoramic view of a Franconian wine region. In the foreground, a lush green vineyard slopes down towards a cluster of houses with red-tiled roofs. A river flows through the middle ground, surrounded by dense green trees. In the background, rolling hills are covered in terraced vineyards under a blue sky with scattered white clouds. A church with a tall, dark spire is visible in the village.

While Würzburg has a lot to offer, the area around it is just as spectacular! In addition to spending time in Würzburg, we highly recommend trips to the surrounding Franconian Wine Country and its beautiful landscape and cultural treasures or a drive along the Romantic Road – and don't forget the wine. Bicycle Tours

A man and a woman are riding bicycles towards the camera on a cobblestone street. The woman is on the left, wearing a pink sweater and blue jeans, smiling. The man is on the right, wearing a white polo shirt and khaki shorts, also smiling. The street is lined with European-style buildings. On the left, there are signs for 'HAUS' and '1828'. On the right, a sign for 'ARTUR STEINMANN' is visible. The street is paved with cobblestones, and there are trees and plants along the sides.

Whether you like it athletic on a mountain bike or more leisurely on a touring bike, our system of bike trails has something to offer for anybody. The trails are well built, well marked and suitable for any age or fitness level.

The Main-Radweg (Main River Bike Path) is one of the premier bike trails in Germany. This is due to the high quality of the route, the signage, and the eating establishments as well as hotels along the trail.

One of the most attractive bicycle regions in Germany can be explored by bike on "Romantic Road" trail. Enjoy pedaling alongside the Tauber River, the Fränkische Saale River, or through the Werntal Valley. How about a tour from the Main River to the Neuschwanstein Castle? Are you ready?

Bicycling Bliss on the Main-Radweg

Most cyclists riding to Würzburg take the Main-Radweg (Main River Bike Path), that is one of the most beautiful long-distance bike paths in all of Germany.

Touring from the source of the Main River to its terminus is great fun. Along the way, come into contact with a diversity of towns, landscapes and memorable impressions. Experience the romantic Franconian Switzerland, the down-to-earth Fichtelgebirge Mountains, the "secret capital of beer" Kulmbach, the natural beauty of the Upper Main river Valley/Coburger Land, the serene Steigerwald Forest, the towns of Bamberg and Würzburg with their UNESCO World Cultural Heritage Sites, the sunny Franconian Wine Country, the fairy-tale forests Spessart/Mainland, the "Bavarian Nice" Aschaffenburg, Frankfurt and its "Museumsufer" that is always worth a visit and the elegant town of Wiesbaden.

The Main-Radweg brochure includes information on bicycle friendly lodging, route descriptions, an overview map, prices, bicycle shops and rental locations.

Long-Distance Bike Path Romantic Road

There can't possibly be a better way to experience Germany's best known and most popular route than by bicycle! Würzburg is the gateway to the Romantic Road and its many highlights: There are the towns of Rothenburg with its entrance gates and fortified towers, the romantic town of Dinkelsbühl, Augsburg, the city of the Fugger, the world famous Wieskirche, the fairy-tale castle Neuschwanstein. Then there is the wildly romantic valley of the Tauber river, an ancient meteor crater near Nördlingen, as well as the impressive views of the Ammergau Alps. Bicycle away from traffic on designated bike paths or lightly traveled secondary roads. Ride alongside the rivers Main, Tauber, Würnitz, and Lech. There are no mountains here or highly aerobic ascends. Cities as well as small towns along the way offer many options for nourishment and an overnight stay. The 460 km long trail from Würzburg to Füssen is well marked and suitable for families with children.

From April through October, the Romantic Road Coaches can shuttle you and with advance reservation also your bicycle along the route. This allows you to ride segments of the trail or provides a way back to the starting point of your trip.

Terms of Accommodation and Agency

Congress • Tourismus • Würzburg, proprietary operation of the City of Würzburg and referred to in the following as “CTW” for short, arranges accommodation for guests in lodging establishments, hereinafter referred to collectively as „Host“, in the Fränkische Weinland (Franconian Wine Country) region according to availability.

If effectively agreed, the following terms and conditions will form integral content of the accommodation/lodging contract coming into being between the Guest and the Host and, supplementarily to the relevant legal provisions, govern the contractual relationship between the Guest and Host and the agency activity of CTW.

For these reasons you are kindly requested to carefully read through these Terms of Accommodation and Agency.

1. Status of CTW, applicability of these terms and conditions

- 1.1. Unless expressly agreed otherwise, the status of CTW is solely that of an agent.
- 1.2. CTW will accept no liability for the details and information provided by the Host, nor for services and shortcomings therein in connection with the services to be provided by the Host.
- 1.3. This shall not affect any liability arising to CTW from the agency contract.
- 1.4. In the individual case the Host is free to conclude agreements with the Guest which deviate from these Terms of Accommodation and Agency.

2. Conclusion of contract, travel agencies, details and information in hotel guides

- 2.1. On making the booking, the Guest offers to enter into a binding contract for accommodation with the Host. This offer is based on the description of the accommodation and the supplementary basic booking information (e.g. description of location, classification details, information found on the relevant website) to the extent that these are available to the Guest.
- 2.2. Bookings may be made verbally, in writing, by telephone, by fax, or electronically (Email, Internet). Electronic bookings are confirmed to the Guest electronically immediately on placement.

2.3. The contract shall come into force upon receipt of the acceptance declaration (confirmation of booking) on the part of the Host or CTW. This acceptance declaration need take no prescribed form, so even verbal or telephoned confirmation is legally binding for Guest and Host. As a rule, the Host or CTW as its representative will additionally send a written copy of the booking confirmation to the Guest.

2.4. Should the Host or CTW provide a special offer at the Guest's request or that of the Booking Party, this shall, in deviation from the above provisions, constitute a binding contractual offer on the part of the Host to the Guest or Booking Party as applicable. In such cases, the contract shall come into force without requiring corresponding confirmation from the Host or CTW if the Guest or the Booking Party accepts this offer without reservations, changes or additions within the period prescribed in the offer by way of declaration, downpayment, final payment or use of the accommodation.

3. Prices and services

3.1. The prices indicated in the brochure are net prices and include statutory value added tax and all additional expenses unless indicated otherwise with regard to such additional costs. Additional charges might be made for optional or supplementary services.

3.2. The services to be provided by the Host are defined solely in the booking confirmation in connection with the valid brochure or property description as well as any supplementary agreements specifically concluded with the Guest/Booking Party. The Guest/Booking Party is advised to make any additional agreement in writing.

4. Payment

4.1. The time at which downpayments and final payments fall due is based on the corresponding arrangement agreed with the Guest or Booking Party and indicated in the booking confirmation. In the absence of any such agreement, the entire price of accommodation including additional costs and services shall fall due at the end of the Guest's stay and accordingly be paid to the Host.

4.2 In the case of stays of more than one week, the Host may bill and request payment for the days of accommodation already provided and additional services rendered (e.g. catering services not included in the accommodation price, beverages, etc. from the minibar).

4.3 Even if not expressly indicated in the booking confirmation, the Host may, unless agreed otherwise in the individual case, request a downpayment amounting to 20 percent of the total price.

4.4 Payment in foreign currencies and by collection – only checks is not possible. Payment by credit card will only be possible by arrangement or if generally offered by the Host by means of displayed notice. Payment at the end of the stay may not be made by bank transfer.

4.5 Should the Guest fail to make an agreed downpayment in part or in whole despite having received a reminder from the Host in which an additional deadline has been set, the Host shall – insofar as he himself is ready and able to render the contractual services and to the extent that the Guest has no legal or contractual right of retention against the Host – have entitlement to withdraw from the contract with the Guest and charge the latter a cancellation fee in accordance with Section 5 below.

5. Cancellation and no-show

5.1. In the case of cancellation the Host shall remain entitled to payment of the agreed price of the stay, including the cost of board and any payments due for additional services.

5.2. Within the framework of its normal business activities, the Host, while not being subject to any obligation to undertake any special efforts, is obligated to seek alternative occupation of the booked accommodation, with account being taken of the specific character of said accommodation (e.g. non-smoking room, family room).

5.3. The Host is obligated to deduct from the aforementioned claim the amount earned through alternative use of the room, as well as any expenses not incurred.

5.4. As per the percentage rates prescribed by law for the assessment of non-incurred expenses, The Guest or Booking Party is obligated to pay the Host the following amounts, based in each case on the total price of the accommodation services (including all additional expenses):

- * For accommodation without board 90%
- * For bed and breakfast 80%
- * For half board 70%
- * For full board 60%

5.5. The Guest/Booking Party expressly retains the right to substantiate to the Host that the cancellation costs saved by the latter are considerably higher than the above charges or that alternative use was found for the accommodation services in question. In such case the Guest/Booking Party will then only be obligated to pay the lower amount.

5.6. We strongly recommend the conclusion of a travel cancellation insurance policy.

5.7. For booking processing-related reasons the notice of cancellation is to be addressed to the Host and not to CTW and, in the Guest's interests, should be made in writing.

6. Arrival and departure

6.1. The Guest should arrive on the agreed date by 6:00 pm at the latest without any necessity for a special agreement in this respect.

6.2. The Guest is obligated to notify the Host – not CTW – of any delay in arrival no later than the agreed time of arrival. The Guest's failure to give such notification will entitle but not oblige the Host to seek other occupants for the accommodation in question.

6.3 The Guest should leave the accommodation at the latest by 12:00 midday on the date of departure agreed and indicated in the booking confirmation, without any special agreement being necessary in this respect. The Guest's failure to vacate the accommodation punctually will entitle the Host to demand extra payment. The Host reserves the right to assert further claims for damages in such instance.

7. Guest's obligations, bringing of animals, cancellation by the Host

7.1. The Guest is obligated to use the accommodation and its facilities and all of the Host's facilities for their intended purposes only and with care and in accordance with any rules of usage which might exist, (e.g. in connection with a swimming pool and sauna).

7.2. The Guest is obligated to notify the Host without delay of any defects and malfunctions and remediation thereof. Solely notifying CTW will be insufficient, and culpable failure to lodge complaint could result in any claims by the Guest becoming partially or wholly invalid.

7.3. The Guest may only cancel the contract in the event of significant defects or malfunctions. Before doing so, the Guest shall within the framework of the notice of complaint first set the Host a reasonable deadline for remediation unless such remediation is not possible, or is refused by the Host, or if immediate cancellation is materially justified by a special interest of the Guest which is evident to the Host, or if such reasons make a continuation of the stay objectively unreasonable from the Guest's point of view.

7.4. The bringing into and keeping of pets in the accommodation will only be possible if expressly agreed beforehand or provided for in the tender. Within the framework of such agreement the Guest is obligated to provide true and accurate information as to type and size. Infringements against this provision can entitle the Host to extraordinary cancellation of the accommodation contract.

8. Liability

8.1. The contractual liability of the Host for non-physical damages is limited to three times the price of the stay, to the extent that damages to the Guest were caused neither wilfully nor by gross negligence on the part of the Host and to the extent that the Host is responsible for damage arising to the Guest solely as a result of a vicarious agent's negligence.

8.2. This provision shall have no bearing on any innkeeper's liability for deposited objects as per Article 701 et seq. of the German Civil Code.

8.3. The Host shall not be liable for any disruption in connection with services clearly provided by third parties to and merely arranged for by the Host for the Guest/Booking Party during the period of lodging (e.g. sports events, theatre visits, exhibitions etc.). This also applies to third-party services already arranged for in conjunction with the booking to the extent that these are expressly identified as such in the tender or booking confirmation.

9. Statutory limitation

9.1. Contractual claims on the part of the Guest/Booking Party against the Host or CTW arising from injury to life, limb or health, including contractual claims for compensation based on negligent breach of duty on the part of the Host or CTW or on wilful or negligent breach of duty by their legal representatives or vicarious agents will be subject to a period of limitation of three years. This also applies to claims for reimbursement for other damage arising from grossly negligent breach of duty on the part of the Host or CTW or from wilful or grossly negligent breach of duty by their legal representatives or vicarious agents.

9.2. Any and all other contractual claims will be subject to a period of limitation of one year.

9.3. The period of limitation as per the foregoing provisions shall in each case commence at the end of the year in which the claim was asserted and in which the Guest/Booking Party became aware of circumstances which justify such claim and in which the Host or CTW became aware of their liability or should have become aware thereof had it not been for gross negligence.

9.4. If negotiations are in progress between the tourist and the Host and/or CTW in respect of lodged claims or the circumstances upon which the claim is based, the period of limitation shall be suspended until such time as the Guest or the Host and/or CTW refuses to continue with the negotiations. The afore-said period of limitation of one year shall become effective no earlier than three months after said suspension.

10. Applicable law, place of jurisdiction

10.1. The contractual relationship between the Guest/Booking Party and the Host or CTW shall be governed exclusively by German law. The same shall apply to other legal relationships between the parties.

10.2. Insofar as admissible proceedings are brought by the Guest or Booking Party against the Host or CTW outside of Germany, for which reason German law does not apply in respect of the latter's liability, the legal consequences – in particular as regards type, scope and level of said claims of the Guest/Customer – shall be subject exclusively to German law.

10.3. The Guest or Booking Party may only take legal action against the Host or CTW at their place of registered domicile.

10.4. As regards legal actions on the part of the Host or CTW against the Guest or Booking Party, the latter's domicile shall be authoritative. The place of jurisdiction shall be the place of registered domicile of the Host as regards legal actions against guests or booking parties who are business persons, legal entities under public or private law or persons who live/whose place of business or usual place of residence is abroad or whose domicile/place of business or usual place of residence is unknown at the time of commencement of the action.

10.5. The aforementioned provisions shall not apply if and to the extent that other mandatory European Union provisions or other international provisions are applicable.

Conditions for Reservations and Contracts for Guided Tours: City of Würzburg/Congress • Tourismus • Würzburg (CTW) and Tour Guides Würzburg

Dear Guests,

The following terms of contract on the one hand regulate the legal relationship between Congress • Tourismus • Wirtschaft Würzburg, a proprietary operation of the City of Würzburg and referred to in the following as "CTW", and yourself, referred to in the following as "Customer" or, as applicable, with the person/institution booking the guided tour. On the other hand, they regulate the legal relationship between you and the tour guide arranged for by CTW. To the extent that they are effectively referred to and included therein, these Terms of Contract shall form integral content of the Contract of Service coming into force between yourself and the respective tour guide in the event of your booking. For these reasons you are kindly requested to carefully read through these terms and conditions.

1. Status of CTW

1.1. The status of CTW in this context is solely that of agent between the Customer – or, as applicable, the party booking the guided tour – and the tour guide conducting said tour.

1.2. CTW will therefore accept no liability for services, personal or material damage arising from or in connection with the guided tour in question. Any liability arising to CTW from the agency relationship will not be affected hereby.

2. Status of the tour guide, applicable legal provisions

2.1. The legal relationship between the tour guide and Customer – or, as applicable, the party booking the guided tour – shall be primarily governed by the agreements concluded with the tour guide complementarily to these terms of contract and alternatively to the legal provisions set down in Article 611 et seq. of the German Civil Code relating to contracts for the provision of services.

2.2. Unless otherwise provided for under mandatory international or European law, the entire legal and contractual relationship with the tour guide and CTW shall be exclusively subject to the law of the Federal Republic of Germany.

3. Conclusion of contract, status of group customer

3.1. In effecting a booking, which may be made in writing, by fax, via E-Mail or the Internet, the Customer or the booking party bindingly offers to enter into a service contract with the respective tour guide, represented by CTW as his legal representative, on the basis of the specifications relating to the respective tour and of these terms of contract.

3.2. If the booking is effected by a third party referred to in these terms of contract as "group customer", i.e. an institution or a company (private group, adult education institution, school class, association, tour operator, incentive or event agency, travel agency), the latter as sole booking party shall be CTW's contracting partner within the framework of the agency contract or the contract with the tour guide within the framework of the service contract to the extent that said group customer is not expressly acting as a legal representative of the ultimate participants under the concluded agreements. In such case, the group customer shall be fully liable for payment of any agreed remuneration or any cancellation fees.

3.3. If it has been expressly agreed that the group customer is effecting a booking as a legal representative of the ultimate participants, said group customer shall be personally and directly liable for all obligations of the ultimate participants to the extent that he has taken over these obligations by virtue of express separate declaration.

3.4. The guided tour service contract shall come into force upon CTW's confirmation as representative of the tour guide. Said confirmation is not bound by any specific formal requirements. As a rule, however, except in the case of bookings effected at very short notice, CTW shall send a written copy of the booking confirmation to the Customer or the party ordering the tour. In the case of binding telephone bookings, the contract shall be legally valid independently of any receipt of the written copy of the booking confirmation and of any agreed advance payment.

4. Services to be performed, right of substitution

4.1. Services to be provided by the tour guide comprise performance of the guided tour in accordance with the specifications and any additional agreements.

4.2. Unless expressly agreed otherwise, the performance of the guided tour is not owed by a specific tour guide but instead by one selected by CTW on the basis of having the necessary qualifications.

4.3. Even if a specific tour guide has been personally named and booked, CTW reserves the right in the event of his justified inability to conduct the tour, (in particular due to illness) to substitute him with another suitably qualified tour guide.

4.4. The scope of duties owed shall derive from the specifications and any additional agreements. Any third-party information and warranties (especially from travel agencies, hotels, transport companies) on the scope of the contractual services in deviation from the specifications or the agreements made with CTW and/or with the tour guide shall not be binding upon CTW and the tour guide.

4.5. Any changes or amendments to the contractually offered services shall require an explicit agreement with CTW.

4.6. Changes to essential services in deviation from the agreed content of the contract that become necessary after the conclusion of the contract (especially also changes in the tour schedule) and were not brought about by the tour guide contrary to the principles of good faith shall be admissible to the extent that the changes are insignificant and do not relevantly impair the overall concept of the tour.

4.7. Details on tour duration are of an approximate nature.

5. Prices and payment

5.1. Agreed prices include the performance of the guided tour and additionally offered or agreed services.

5.2. Admission fees, catering expenses, as well as costs on public and private transport, city maps, leaflets, museum guides, tour costs within the framework of the visited sights included in the guided tours are only included in the agreed price if these are specifically listed as guided tour services or additionally agreed.

5.3. Should the tour commence or end outside of the Würzburg city centre, the tour guide will then have entitlement to reimbursement of the travel expenses thus incurred and for the additional time involved.

5.4. Unless agreed otherwise, in particular in respect of a downpayment, the agreed remuneration shall become due in cash upon commencement of the guided tour. Payment by cheque or credit card will not be accepted. Payment with vouchers issued by third parties shall only be valid if subject to a corresponding and specific agreement with CTW.

5.5. Insofar as the tour guide is ready and able to perform the agreed services and there are no justified reasons for any statutory or contractual right of retention on the part of the Customer or the booking party, there shall be no entitlement to the agreed services without full payment prior to the commencement of the tour.

5.6. The payments do not include value added tax.

5.7. The maximum number of participants per tour guide is, for example, 50 on tours in the Fränkische Weinland (Franconian Wineland) or along the Romantische Strasse (Romantic Road), or 35 on city sightseeing tours (also on combined bus/walking tours).

5.8. Should the number of participants turning up for the guided tour exceed an agreed total or the maximum number of 35 persons per tour guide without this having been expressly agreed beforehand, the tour guide will then have entitlement to call in an additional tour guide. Irrespective of the number of people by which the agreed number of participants is exceeded, this additional tour guide shall be fully paid according to the applicable rates of remuneration. The group of participants will then be split up as the two tour guides see fit. Should it not prove possible to find an additional tour guide, the originally commissioned tour guide shall then have entitlement to double the applicable rate of remuneration for a single tour guide.

5.9 Should the Customer/ordering person notify CTW beforehand that the number of participants will exceed the agreed total and it should not then be possible to engage the services of an additional tour guide due to lack of availability, the commissioned tour guide shall accordingly have entitlement to remuneration at one and a half times the applicable rate for a single tour guide.

6. Failure to use ordered services

6.1. There shall be no entitlement to any reimbursement of payments which have already been made if the Customer or the booking party does not use the agreed services either in whole or in part for reasons for which the tour guide or CTW cannot be held responsible and even though the tour guide is ready and able to provide the services.

6.2. The agreed remuneration shall be subject to the corresponding statutory regulations (§ 615 paragraphs 1 and 2 of the German Civil Code BGB):

- The agreed remuneration is to be paid without entitlement to any Annex 1 subsequent performance of the guided tour at a later point in time.
- The tour guide shall, however, allow any expenses not incurred as result of said failure to take part in the guided tour to be deducted from the remuneration as well as any remuneration he obtains or maliciously refrains from obtaining through placement elsewhere of agreed services.

7. Cancellation, withdrawal and change of booking by the Customer or booking party

7.1. The Customer or the booking party may cancel the order, free of charge, after conclusion of the contract with the tour guide or CTW up to the fourth working day before the agreed commencement of performance. Notice of cancellation may be given by fax (09 31/37 36 52) or eMail (fuehrungen@wuerzburg.de) during the business hours of CTW's head office (Monday – Thursday 8:30 am – 5pm, Friday 8:30 am – 1 pm). Said cancellation shall not be considered valid until confirmed in writing (fax or E-Mail) by CTW.

7.2. Notice of cancellation given later than specified in Section 7.1 shall make the cancelling party liable for payment of compensation to the amount of 90% of the agreed remuneration. The provision set down in Article 6.2 above shall apply correspondingly. In such case the tour guide will invoice the Customer or booking party directly.

7.3 If applicable, the Customer or booking party shall have entitlement to furnish proof that the tour guide has suffered no loss or that the loss sustained is less than the invoiced amount.

7.4. Changes of booking (change of date, time, tour route/schedule or of any essential services and modalities involved in the guided tour) may be made, free of charge, up to the fourth working day before the agreed date of performance, after which it will only be possible to make changes by cancelling the booking in accordance with the above conditions and subsequently making a new booking. Such changes shall not be considered valid until confirmed in writing by CTW.

8. Liability of CTW and the tour guide

8.1. For details of CTW's liability, please refer to Section 1.2. of these terms of contract.

8.2. Liability of the tour guide for any and all non-physical damage shall be excluded to the extent that such damage is not the result of intent or gross negligence on the part of the tour guide.

8.3. The tour guide shall not be liable for any services, actions or commissions on the part of catering businesses, facilities, supporting institutions of tourist attractions/sights or any places that are visited within the framework of the tour unless he bears responsibility in whole or in part for the damage in question.

9. Tour times, duties and obligations of the Customer

9.1. The Customer or group customer is required to indicate a mobile phone number when booking or in due time before the agreed date of the tour, via which they can be contacted should the need arise. As a rule, CTW shall likewise give the Customer or an appropriately nominated person the mobile phone number of the respective tour guide.

9.2. Agreed tour times shall be strictly adhered to. If subject to any delay, the Customer shall accordingly notify the tour guide at latest by the agreed time of the guided tour's commencement and indicate the probable time of arrival. The tour guide may refuse to postpone the tour's time of commencement if such postponement is objectively impossible or unreasonable, in particular if subsequent tours or other compelling business or private appointments of the tour guide cannot be kept as a result. Generally speaking, any postponements over 60 minutes shall entitle the tour guide to cancel the tour. The tour guide's entitlement to payment shall remain, and the provision set down in Section 6 shall apply correspondingly. In such case the tour guide will invoice the Customer or booking party directly.

9.3. Any delay in commencement of the guided tour for which CTW and/or the tour guide cannot be held responsible will in general not give rise to any entitlement to an extension of the tour's duration. Should the group arrive late for the tour, the tour guide and the Customer or the group customer shall agree as to whether the guided tour should be correspondingly shortened or – if the tour guide has no obligations to meet elsewhere – whether the tour's originally agreed duration can be adhered to. In such case the tour guide's remuneration shall be calculated on the basis of the period comprising the wait and the actual duration of the guided tour.

9.4. The Customer or the representative of the group customer is obligated to notify the tour guide of any shortcomings in the tour and agreed services immediately and to demand appropriate remediation. Any claims in respect of poor or incomplete performance on the part of the tour guide shall not become forfeited if such notification of shortcomings is not made for reasons for which the Customer cannot be held responsible.

9.5. The Customer or the booking party shall only be entitled to cancel or terminate a tour after its commencement if the performance of the tour guide is substandard and such shortcomings are not remedied in spite of corresponding notification thereof. There shall be no entitlement to reimbursement in the case of unjustified cancellation or termination.

9.6. Combined bus/walking tours may only take place in buses with a functioning microphone system and appropriate seating for the tour guide. Should this not be the case, the tour guide shall have entitlement to refuse the order while retaining his right to remuneration (Section 6.2 shall apply correspondingly).

10. Insurance cover

10.1. Contractually agreed services shall only include insurance cover in favour of the Customer or booking party if specifically agreed accordingly.

10.2. The Customer or booking party is strongly advised to take out a travel cancellation insurance policy.

11. Accessibility of local sights and the special regulations relating thereto

11.1. CTW has no influence on the admission times of local sights, for which reason the time quoted in CTW's confirmation of order applies solely to the start of the tour and does NOT serve as guarantee of admission to a sight at that point.

11.2. Furthermore, CTW has no influence on the general accessibility on Sundays and public holidays of museums and public buildings, in particular churches (which might be closed for tours because of, for example, services, special events, etc.).

11.3. Würzburg's castle and garden management have established the following regulation in order to ensure smooth running tours of the Residence UNESCO World Heritage site: Groups consisting of less than 30 people may be "topped up" with other individual visitors even if a group has booked its own tour guide. There might be some admission waiting times in peak periods and during the guided tour.

12. Statute of limitation

12.1. Contractual claims on the part of the Customer/booking party against the tour guide or CTW arising from injury to life, limb or health, including contractual claims for compensation, that are based on said parties' negligent breach of duty or a deliberate or negligent breach of obligation on the part of their legal representatives or vicarious agents shall lapse after three years. This shall also apply to compensation claims for other damages that are based upon a grossly negligent breach of duty on the part of the tour guide and/or of CTW or based on a deliberate or grossly negligent breach of duty by their legal representatives or vicarious agents.

12.2. All other contractual claims shall lapse after one year.

12.3. The period of limitation as per the above provisions shall in each case begin as from the end of the year in which the claim arose and in which the Customer/booking party became aware of the circumstances upon which the claim is based and in which the tour guide and/or CTW as liable parties became aware of, without gross negligence on their part, had to become aware of said circumstances.

12.4. If negotiations are in progress between the Customer and the tour guide and/or CTW in respect of the claims lodged or the circumstances upon which the claim is based, the period if limitation shall be suspended until such time as the Customer or the tour guide and/or CTW refuses to continue with the negotiations. The aforementioned period of limitation of one year shall become effective three months after such suspension at the earliest.

13. Applicable law, place of jurisdiction

13.1. The entire contractual and legal relationship between CTW and the Customer or booking party as well as between the tour guide and the Customer is governed exclusively by the law of the Federal Republic of Germany.

13.2. Insofar as complete on-site payment to the tour guide is agreed, the place of performance and the place of jurisdiction shall be the place where the tour is carried out.

13.2. The Customer or booking party may only file a legal action against the tour guide or CTW at their general place of jurisdiction.

13.3. Unless the place of jurisdiction for the place of performance is justified, the authoritative place for legal action on the part of the tour guide and/or CTW against the Customer or booking party shall be the latter's general place of jurisdiction. If the booking party is a merchant within the meaning of the German Commercial Code or a public or private law legal entity, or if the Customer or booking party has no general place of jurisdiction in Germany, the exclusive place of jurisdiction for any claims of the tour guide or CRW shall be their place of residence or their principal place of business.

13.4. The above provisions on applicable law and the place of jurisdiction shall not apply if determined otherwise in favour of the Customer or booking party by EU regulations applicable to the contract with the tour guide.
